Y. W. C. A. UNIFORM

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS]
Washington, Oct. 30.—At last. Women sympathizes with the man who lost his collar button. The admission is made by Mrs. Josephus Daniels, one of the secretaries of war, who is wearing a U. S. A. uniform, how to possess what necessary and still an all-accessory to man's sartorial equipment.
Never again, Mrs. Daniels declares, will she fail of sympathy with the man ose collar button has gotten away n him in some one of those thou-ways the little article has of making its escape. The reason is that Daniels lost his own collar button in a sleeper on one of her recent trips in behalf of the united war work campaign. After a vain attempt to locate the elusive article, it is said the wife of the secretary of the navy reluctantly substituted a safety pin.

Amsterdam, Oct. 30.—When the German retreatment in Belgium, France, began it was expected that 250,000 refugees would seek safety in Holland. Up until Saturday night however, only about 7,000 had passed across the frontier. All but thirteen of these were French people from the districts of Valenciennes, Douai, Cambrai and Quesnoy.

THE GREATEST SONG BOOK IN THE WORLD

That Old Melody You Long to Recover Is Near at Hand.

1000 IN THE VOLUME

Your favorite song may be only a memory. It may consist only of a hint of melody, which now and then you recall sufficiently to be able to whistle or hum. It may be you remember only a line or two of the words.

Often you have wished that you might find that song and renew its acquaintance. It is brought to you now in "The Book of a Thousand Songs," which this paper is distributing.

Here you meet "Angeline Baker," here you find again the dear old "Rock in the Morning" and "Love's Old Sweet Song." You may sing the hymns of the old "big meeting" nights, the old carols of the "christianity." You will find them all within the pages of this book, the purpose of which its publishers announce as follows:

The purpose of this book has been to assemble within its covers virtually every song, old and new, which by reason of its merit deserves a place in the hearts of music lovers. The more than 1,000 songs which it contains have been selected with the greatest possible amount of careful discrimination, and it is the sincere hope of the publishers that it will fill a niche all its own in the domain of musical collections for the home.

Turn to the cotton printed in another copy of this paper and learn how to obtain one of these books at a rate of less than one-tenth of a cent a song.

FLU SAVES THE POLITICIANS MONEY

The Republican leaders in Madison believe that the vote which Gov. Phillips and the Republican state candidates will obtain on account of the letter of J. N. Tittmore, in which he announces his support of the Republican ticket, will be greatly increased, and that Mr. Tittmore's letter insured the election of the Republican ticket by a very large majority.

The Republican leaders who are watching the situation closely say that the "Tittmore letter" recognizes the constructive attitude of the Republican state platform and sows by its tone that Mr. Tittmore and the equity leaders who are his advisers recognize that there is more hope of constructive legislation from a Republican victory than from the election of Democratic officials.

It is said that the supporters of Mr. Tittmore in counties where the Tittmore vote was strong in the primary election are very generally lining up in support of the Republican candidate and that all the Republican candidates are every day receiving letters from men who supported Mr. Tittmore in the primary election to the effect that they are now getting behind the Republican state ticket and doing all in their power to aid its election.

Reports from all counties in the state show that the Republican organizations are receiving encouragement in their canvass and that a great deal of personal work is being done in all of the counties of the state. In fact, the Republican leaders believe the voters are being awakened to the important issues of the campaign as thoroughly as they would have been if there could have been a speaking campaign and the fact that influenza has prevented the holding of public meetings will not lessen the vote which will be cast at the polls on Tuesday, Nov. 5. It is said that despite political discussion that is being carried on in this campaign the voters everywhere are taking great interest in the war.

Make Life Worth Living.
The question, Is life worth living? implies a species of blasphemy. The right question to ask is: Am I worthy of living? If I am not, I can make myself so. This is always in my power.—Felix Adler.

DESCRIBES METHOD FOR CARE OF "FLU" VICTIMS

When the hospitals are full, and the doctors are all busy, and you can't get a nurse for love or money, "what shall I do?" the average housewife asks, "if some one in my family gets influenza?"

This question is answered in a statement issued today by Miss Jane A. Delano, director of the department of nursing, American Red Cross, who offers to American women the following suggestions:

"If a member of your family is stricken with Spanish influenza, or shows decided evidence of being seriously ill, do the following things until a physician can be summoned:

"Put the patient to bed, and keep him there. Select a quiet, sunny room, as far removed as possible from other members of the family, and move all unnecessary furniture, so that the room can be easily cleaned.

"The room should be well-ventilated, but not too warm. A ventilated room does not mean a cold room, and the patient should always be protected from direct draught. The windows should be raised at top and bottom, at least once every hour, to keep fresh air circulating. Use extra covers, if necessary.

"Keep away other members of the family, and exclude visitors until the doctor has seen the patient, and the nurse has been instructed by the doctor. She should wear a wash dress, covered by a long apron with sleeves, while nursing. This apron should be left in the room, near the door, and put on immediately upon entering the sick-room.

"In order to keep from breathing in the germs of influenza, the nurse should wear a mask, and the patient should wear a contagion mask over the mouth and nose.

"The nurse is made by folding together six thicknesses of gauze, eight inches square when finished, attaching tapes to the four corners to be tied back of the head. Have several of these and boil each one after using.

"The attendant should remember to wash her hands frequently with warm water and soap, especially before leaving the room, and to change with other members of the family.

"All towels and wash-cloths used to wash the patient should be kept separate, also the basin required for his toilet.

"Use cloth or paper napkins to receive the discharges from the mouth and nose. Burn these after being used. Old cloths or cotton used to receive any other discharges, including vomit material, should be placed in a paper bag and burned immediately after use. Old kerchiefs, which may not be burned, should not be placed under the pillow. Keep them in a paper bag near the bedside. Before sending to the laundry, they should be put in a pan filled with water and a little washing soda, and boiled.

"Select certain dishes to be used in the sick room and keep them there. Use of the patient. If necessary, take them to the kitchen, boil them before washing.

"Scraps of food left on the tray after the patient has eaten should also be placed in a paper bag and burned.

"Give no medicine that has not been ordered by a physician."

DISPUTED BILL IS BASIS OF ACTION

Through the failure of the records of the late Gardner Kalkvelage to show that an appeal had been taken in the action of W. M. Lawton against the Universal Creamery Company, in which judgment was rendered against the defendants which the attorney alleged was null, the judgment will be forced to stand as the twenty days have elapsed since it was entered. The action was the result of a disputed bill. The property of the Universal Creamery Company refused to pay the plaintiff in the action a bill for gasoline which he furnished their former manager, Nick Stevenson and which the defendants alleged was for his own personal use and not for that of the corporation. As it now stands they will have to pay the bill but had planned to appeal it to the circuit court, believing their contention was just.

WORK ON QUESTIONNAIRES DRAWS NEAR COMPLETION

The legal advisory board did a rushing business yesterday, working late into the night filling out questionnaires. All through the morning and afternoon the men filed into the court house, as much as possible, they were scattered throughout the building, some going into the court room, others into the various offices and rooms throughout the building. Most of the men from the neighboring towns and villages brought their families with them, so that the court house was a busy place all day. The board now sends out the urgent call asking that all men having questionnaires not as yet filled out, to come as soon as possible. After Thursday afternoon no more questionnaires will be worked on, so it should plan to come to the court house tomorrow morning or afternoon.

CLOTHING SENT TO PEOPLE AT SUPERIOR

Five Hundred Pounds of Clothing Sent to Superior by Chamber of Commerce—More Money Received.

Nine more dollars were received by the Chamber of Commerce yesterday to be used in aiding the suffering people of Wisconsin who were victims of the Minnesota forest fire. A total of $500.00 and fifty dollars has been received to date, and a letter has been received from the American Red Cross at Superior, thanking the Janesville people who so kindly assisted the stricken people.

Five hundred pounds of clothing were also shipped to Superior yesterday by the Chamber of Commerce. The clothing consisted of all kinds of wearing apparel and will be greatly needed by the people who are being cared for at Superior.

TUESDAY'S MARKET

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Cattle sold at $19.70, the high point of the year, yearlings reaching $19.80, also a record.

A $19 bid was made for hogs, but not accepted, the best sale being $18.35.

Sheep and lambs were steady early, but slipped later. Early hog prices were 15 to 25c higher, but the bloom disappeared before the close.

Middle grades of cattle have had a $2 advance during the past two weeks and appear ripe for a break. Short red stuff is dangerously high and country shippers will court trouble by following the market, as a break of $1 per cwt. would be the inevitable result of a run of such bullocks as are needed to fill army contracts. Killers have been on short shift recently or the upturn would have been impossible. Supply statistics look beefy, but the run lacks tonnage.

Packers are still meeting difficulty in getting enough steers to fill army contracts, as the minimum weight is 550 pounds, requiring 1,100-lb. bullocks. Present prices are calculated to start a movement from Iowa, but the country has recovered momentum and cattle are being permitted to make gains.

A run of 22,000 cattle carried a large percentage of near-bear and butcher cattle. Prices were firm at the highest level of the season, $19.70 being a new record on heavy steers.

Choice to prime steers, $19.00 to 19.75.

Good to choice steers, 17.50 to 19.00.

Medium to good steers, 15.50 to 17.50.

Fair to medium steers, 14.00 to 15.00.

Light killing steers, 12.00 to 13.50.

Good to choice cows, 10.00 to 12.50.

Fair to good cows, 8.00 to 12.00.

Light dressed cows, 7.00 to 7.75.

Canning and cutting cows, 5.85 to 6.50.

Bologna and fat bulls, 7.50 to 11.50.

Good to choice feeders, 18.50 to 19.50.

Fair to good feeders, 8.50 to 10.50.

Common to fair stockers, 7.00 to 8.00.

Good to choice calves, 16.00 to 16.50.

Hogs Lose Advance.

Hogs opened 16 1/2 to 25c higher on a run of $1.00, but closed with the advance lost. Heavy packers sold as low as $17 in small lots, but $17.50 was the low side on everything decent, the spread having narrowed.

Heavy butchers, $18.40 to 18.75.

Light butchers, 18.50 to 18.85.

Light buccor hogs, 18.00 to 18.60.

Heavy packing, 17.00 to 17.70.

Medium and light pigs, 17.50 to 18.00.

Rough, 15.50 to 16.90.

Pigs, good to choice, 14.00 to 16.50.

Sheep Sell Off.

Receipts of sheep and lambs were 33,000. Qualified lambs were steady at $16.25 to 16.55, but middle grades were neglected and country demand for feeders was slow.

Choice to prime lambs, $18.25 to 18.65.

Good to choice lambs, 15.50 to 16.25.

Medium to good lambs, 14.75 to 15.60.

Good to choice wethers, 10.75 to 11.50.

Good to choice ewes, 9.00 to 10.00.

Breeding ewes, 14.00 to 14.75.

Cull ewes, 9.50 to 16.00.

Cull ewes, 4.00 to 7.50.

JANESVILLE MARKETS.

Grain Market.

Prices quoted below are for large quantities as paid to growers. When purchased in small lots, the price is usually somewhat higher than quoted because of the expense of handling and delivery.

The prices which are quoted below are as nearly accurate as possible and while they may vary it is owing to the prices paid by individual buyers for various commodities for which they may feel a particular need.

Barley $1.05 to $1.75 per 100 lbs.

Feed corn, $1.00 per bu.; oats, 55c to 58c per bu.; rye, $1.60 for 60 lbs.; ear corn, $2.00 to $2.50 per ton; timothy, $25 to $28 per ton, mixed hay $25 to $28 per ton, oat straw, $7 to $8 per ton, rye straw, $8 to $9 per ton; buckwheat $2.00 per bu.; wheat $1.80 to $2.05 per bu.

Potatoes: $1.00 to $1.10 per bu.; dairy butter, 50c per lb.; creamery butter, 57c to 60c per lb.; lard, 27c to 28c per lb.; cabbage, 24c to 25c per 100; dry onions, 25c per lb.; turnips, 2c per lb.; garlic, 25c per lb.; winter squash, $1.25 to $2.00 per doz; dry beans, 10c to 12c per lb.; apples, 3c to 3 1/2c per lb.; pumpkins 70c to $1.00 per doz; eggs, 45c to 46c per doz; beef, 2c per lb.; carrots 80c to $1.00 per bu.

Straight Facts Regarding Christmas Shopping from the National Council of Defense

CHRISTMAS shopping must be done this year with the least possible disturbance to labor conditions, which will result if shopping is left for the "last minute rush," thereby making extra store help necessary.

Early shopping will avoid this.

MAIL and express packages must be sent as soon as possible, to prevent congestion of mail and express clearing depots. Congestion will hinder government business.

Early shopping will prevent this congestion.

BUY Christmas gifts that reflect the useful and appropriate spirit, rather than the decorative spirit. Useless gifts put a premium on national efficiency.

Start early to select your gifts of use and appropriateness.

THE undersigned Janesville Retail Merchants of the Retail Division of the Chamber of Commerce will give their utmost assistance to the government and the public to make this Christmas shopping season the earliest and the most satisfactory Janesville has ever seen. With this in mind---

CO-OPERATE with Uncle Sam.
Begin your Christmas shopping tomorrow.

TODAY'S PRAYER.

October 31.
Upon the Altar, O Lord eternal and full of glory, we offer our sons who have gone forth to war; and our own hopes and affections who serve in a great and sacred unity of devotion to one holy cause;
grant that all of them, who are preparing for us, on earth and in heaven. Amen.

NOT HAPHAZARD.

Among the various boards this war has created is one which looks after the housing of workmen in communities where there is a great demand for labor and are to employ a large number of workmen. These workmen can not be accommodated in shacks, in rough, uncouth boarding houses, even while homes are being built for them, but must be assured good, clean, comfortable quarters from the date of their arrival at the scene of the work.

If you stop and consider that the General Motors Corporation plans to start their new factory here with five thousand workmen, say three thousand of them married, and that the federal government requires these married men be able to rent suitable homes, with bath, sewer connections, electric light or gas connection, and constructed so as to comply with modern sanitary conditions, that these homes must be sixteen feet apart and are to cost approximately three thousand dollars each, you can see what a stupendous task is before Janesville to prepare for the advent of the influx of workmen whom we are certain to entertain.

Three thousand homes at three thousand dollars each approximates nine million dollars. You all know how hard it has been to raise a million dollars for Liberty loans with interest assured at four and a quarter per cent, and then stop and consider where this nine million dollars is coming from. Money does not grow on trees these days and renting property is not always the best investment. Then you have taken care of the two thousand single workmen who must be accommodated.

It is a big problem when you consider it on every side and the Chamber of Commerce has tackled a most important work in seeking to formulate a report to the federal government of just what Janesville can do and will do in the present crisis. The ladies taking this housing problem in hand call you will understand it is for a bigger and better Janesville, and the elimination of all sorts of hap-hazard dwellings that are often an eye-sore to communities where large interests develop factories quickly and is government work.

GERMANY'S GOVERNMENT.
Germany claims to have democratized its government. If so, one of the greatest revolutions of history has taken place over night. The mightiest despotism the world ever saw, suddenly disappears. In its place we have a democratic monarchy, conforming to the President Wilson's demand. It takes a shell game artist at a county fair to do anything so neat.

Great revolutions like these, if authentic, are attested by indisputable evidence. Any constitutional change in the United States is the subject of long debate in public assembly, and is finally agreed to by vote recorded and put on record by the lawful authorities. English liberties date back to Magna Charter. You can find an original copy of it in Lincoln cathedral today.

When has any proclamation of abdication of his imperial power been made by Emperor William II. of Germany? Under the German constitution, he has the power of making "defensive war." As he can set up the claim that any war is "defensive," this practically gives him the right to make war any time he wants to. Where and when has he abdicated this power? Let him come forward and present a signed proclamation giving up the right.

Under the German constitution, the Federal Council can authorize the Kaiser to make an "offensive war." As this body does not represent the people, the Council must formally, by attested vote, renounce this right, before the first step toward democratization has been made.

The claim set forth by the German government that it has placed sovereign power in the hands of the people is too transparent to deceive a class of school children.

PERFECTLY LOGICAL.
It is perfectly logical the thought that the men between the ages of thirty-two and forty-six who are going to be called into federal service at this time are to be trained to go across the ocean and take the places of the soldiers who are now there and who are doing the actual fighting. It will be years before Europe will have settled down after this world's struggle, and we may expect to find United States soldiers doing guard duty in important centers for some time to come, and these guards will be the men of the more mature years whose judgment has not been warped by the awful baptism of fire and tales of savagery, they have also witnessed, during the fighting period. You can not make a soldier in a day. The old theory that it took six months to turn a trooper is actually true, and while the various military and semi-military organizations the nation through, are perhaps cutting this down a trifle now, still these men will be called into service for training so as to relieve other men now training for service abroad until the war is over. The men who become soldiers now will, many of them, leave good business positions, but Uncle Sam needs them or he would not call them.

TRUE TO PARTY.

Despite all rumors to the contrary, assurances come from all parts of the state that the supporters of Senator Wilcox in the recent primary campaign will be true to the party affiliations and will vote for the republican nominees regardless of any pre-primary feeling. Leaving every pre-war sentiment out of the question the more fact that the President in this war time steps down from his dignified position to demand the election of a democrat to office as a vindication of his policies, is enough to arouse partisanship in the minds of the average voter. Indications point to the election of Governor Philipp by the usual republican majority. Not only of Governor Philipp, but of the entire republican state and congressional tickets. Of course in every community there will be individuals who retain their bitter pre-primary antipathy for Philipp who will doubtless support his opponent, but they will be offset by democrats who will vote for a continuation of the business-like state administration we are now enjoying and glory in the fact that Wisconsin has met every war demand promptly and quickly with no quibbling.

The people who can't spare time from their work to remain at home a day and ward off the influenza, are usually the same ones who spend three weeks in bed and perhaps take a ride in the hearse.

Some people hesitated for days before investing their money in the perfectly safe Liberty bonds, while the soldier does not hesitate a minute about taking the chances of going over the top.

The new suffrage law in Prussia gives men over fifty years of age two votes. Considering that the longer they live in Germany the less they know, half a vote would be about right.

It is vaguely reported that there is an election coming off early in November, but our most expert rumor chasers have failed to find anyone who can positively verify the fact.

It is all right for people who have had the influenza to desire sympathy, but they needn't try to attract it by coughing and sneezing in other people's faces.

The amateur farmers certainly stripped for business the past season, even removing the skin from their hands.

Let us sincerely hope that the president has not ordered more than a ton of writing paper to begin sending notes to the slippery Huns.

Anyway it is expected that the candidates will all remember to go to the polls and vote for themselves.

It is perfectly logical the thought that the men between the ages of thirty-two and forty-six who are going to be called into federal service at this time are to be trained to go across the ocean and take the places of the soldiers who are now there and who are doing the actual fighting. It will be years before Europe will have settled down after this world's struggle, and we may expect to find United States soldiers doing guard duty in important centers for some time to come, and these guards will be the men of the more mature years whose judgment has not been warped by the awful baptism of fire and tales of savagery, they have also witnessed, during the fighting period. SAMUEL M. FELTON.
"The Railroad Doctor" is the nickname given Samuel M. Felton who, as director general of military railroads, is holding down one of the biggest jobs of the war. He is in charge of the vast railway problems in the U. S. and in connection with the movement of troops and supplies.

Felton is sixty-five. He was born in Philadelphia. He was educated at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He began his railroad service in 1868 as a roadman with the Chester Creek railroad. He rose rapidly, becoming a general superintendent at twenty-one and a general manager at twenty-nine. He has been general superintendent of a dozen more railroads since then. He is a wizard at diagnosing the ailments of railroads. He has been called upon twenty-six times to attend railroads which were lame or weak. He handled the railroad end of Pershing's activities on the Mexican border and when the present war began was given his present job.

AN INVITATION.
Uncle Sam has invited Several of us influential Business men to take a trip. At his expense. In a special train. To see the workings Of a modern armament. And then he will take us Over to France at his expense And as his special guests To show us how the big guns work. He will let us see Paris And all the wonders of the front. We will see airships In action and Will get some of the food The government is furnishing Its soldiers, and then They will bring us back home On a special boat. At it won't cost us a cent. The words R. S. V. P. Are on the invitation. And we are requested To let the government know Just as soon as possible By filling out those Questionnaires. Have you been invited? What's your number, Brother?

According to a scientific journal, moth-breeding is one of the latest hobbies. It has been our experience that moth-breeding is unnecessary. They just seem to breed themselves. After they consume the tails of the dress coat, you are obliged to wear it as a Tuxedo. One learned commentator says he hopes the new hobby of moth-breeding will have the effect of teaching the insect how to dress properly and that nothing is more vexatious than to see a moth going about in a fur coat many times too large for it.

RETAIL STORES BACK TO OLD SCHEDULE ON THURSDAY MORNING

MARKED DECREASE OF FLU IN CITY IN PAST FEW DAYS. BUSINESS HOUSES WILL BE ALLOWED TO OPEN AT REGULAR TIME.

ORDER ISSUED SOON

Theatres, Dance Halls and Churches Must Remain Closed Until Order Comes From State Health Officer.

Good-bye to the "flu". After combating the disease in this city for the past two weeks it was announced this morning that the epidemic had been checked and has shown a marked decrease in the city in the past few days. Business houses, that is the retail stores of the city will resume their regular business hours tomorrow, but will still be under the State Health Officer's order that theatres, dance halls, churches, schools and public meetings will be tabooed.

Upon learning of the decrease in the epidemic, Mr. F. J. Green of the Chamber of Commerce, immediately got in touch with the city Health Officer, Buckmaster, who is being considered by the State Health Officer, Mr. Green to make the matter up with the State Health Department. Mr. Hatcher, an assistant of Doctor Harper, State Health Department, Mr. Tolchong, distance telephone and he mentioned the opening of the retail stores in the city.

Mr. Hatcher, in speaking of the situation in the city, stated that the Green, than an order would be issued from the State Health Officer sometime on Thursday stating, when the dance halls, churches, theatres and schools could be opened. It was stated that the health department to give the theatre managers forty-eight hours notice and undoubtedly the theatres will be given permission to reopen on Saturday or early next week.

No intimation was given as to when the churches, theatres and dance halls and schools would be opened, but Dr. Harper's assistant stated that the order would be issued sometime on Thursday. With the issuing of the order on Thursday, it may be allowed to resume business on Saturday, and schools Monday, but nothing definite in regard to the subject can be stated as yet.

Nineteen new cases, all of them very mild were reported by local physicians yesterday. Forty-two patients were discharged as cured, leaving a total of only two hundred and two cases in the city.

Doctor Buckmaster has rescinded his order in regard to the closing of retail stores in the city, and Thursday morning will see the retail stores resuming their usual hours. With the rain of the past few days and the advent of colder weather it is thought that the epidemic will be completely checked in a few days and that Janesville will be entirely clear of Spanish influenza.

The following statement was issued by Doctor Buckmaster, this morning: Due to the fact that the influenza epidemic has materially decreased and following a conference with the State Health Officer, it is thought that the persons carrying on business in the city of Janesville, who volunteered the closing of their places of business to aid in checking the influenza epidemic here are permitted to resume business as usual tomorrow morning, Thursday, October 31st.

The order as to effects all public meetings, churches, schools and theatres still is in effect, but ordinary business may be resumed.

Care must still be exercised to prevent crowding together in all places. The voluntary spirit shown by the Janesville business men is cordially appreciated by the undersigned.

S. B. Buckmaster, Health Officer.
Dated Wednesday, October 30, 1918.

POWDER MIXED WITH GRIST CAUSES EXPLOSION

An explosion caused by some powder being in the grist brought to the mill yesterday morning to the fact that the elevator doors and set fire to several boards on the elevator door.

The grist was brought to the mill yesterday morning to the fact that the elevator doors and set fire to several boards on the elevator door.

The explosion made a considerable noise and it was only due to the fact that the machinery was not running very fast that the machinery wasn't wrecked.

A careful investigation at the mill was made and it was determined that due to some error that powder was mixed with the grist.

CHRISTMAS CARTONS FOR SOLDIERS HAVE ARRIVED

The cartons for shipping the Christmas packages to soldiers across the seas, have already arrived at the Red Cross headquarters in the Post Office. A typographical error was made on Monday in the weight of these cartons. When packed and weighed, they were found to weigh more than two pounds and fifteen ounces. The coupons for the soldiers to send to their friends have already been distributed to them, and will now be arriving very soon, to their folks here.

When they are received the relatives can get busy and get their cartons ready to mail. They must be taken to the office of the Red Cross in the Post Office to be inspected, before the outer wrapper is put on. The first Christmas package has already come from Chicago.

Mrs. Geo. Parker, chairman of the Knitting department wishes to let it be known that the Red Cross work shop will be open on Monday for receiving the knitted articles which are still out. In looking over the books it is shown that a good many ladies have yarn, which has not been turned in, and it is very desirable that these articles be finished up and returned to the shop. The room will be open on Monday afternoon but no other day next week for this purpose.

The committee of common schools of Whitewater will meet with the Rock County common school committee on next Tuesday. In regard to the advisability of transferring J. District 1, Lima and Whitewater, to District 3, Whitewater.

PUBLIC MAY HEAR JUDGE TAFT AND THE OTHER CONVENTION SPEAKERS

Madison, Oct. 30.—To enable citizens of Madison and other Wisconsin cities to hear Ex-President W. H. Taft and other distinguished speakers who are to address the Win-the-War convention of the League to Enforce Peace, to be held at the University of Wisconsin on November 3, 4 and 5, a series of addresses open to the public is being arranged. As the convention sessions will be held in the university gymnasium, there will be accommodations only for the 1,200 to 1,500 delegates and invited guests, but others may hear the same speakers in public addresses in other halls.

Ex-President Taft will deliver a public address on "America in the War" in the gymnasium on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 3, after reviewing the University Students' Army Training Corps soldiers on the lower campus.

A woman's meeting, on Saturday night, November 5, in the city high school, will be addressed by Mrs. Philip North Moore, former president of the General Federation of Women's Club and president of the National Council of Women, and Marcus Knatch, member of the French High Commission to America.

Hamilton Holt, editor of The Independent, will speak on "War Experiences in France" on Friday afternoon, Nov. 4, in the high school.

John P. Frey, editor of the Moulders' Journal, will speak on "Labor's Aims in the War" and A. M. Simons, Chairman of the American Socialist Commission to Europe on "Socialism and the War" on Friday evening, Nov. 5, in the high school.

Franz Sigel, president of the Friends of German Democracy, will speak on "Prussian Autocracy" on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 3, in the high school.

The Rev. Arthur T. Gutter, chairman of the Free Church Council of Great Britain, will speak on "Moral Issues of the War" on Sunday evening, Nov. 10, in the university gymnasium.

On Sunday morning, several of the city pulpits will be occupied by convention speakers.

HEART AND HOME PROBLEMS

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO MRS. THOMPSON, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl going on nineteen and am very anxious to do something to help in this great war. I am away from home working and boarding, and so I find it impossible to do much financially.

What can a girl who is not a high school graduate, and with little money do to help her country?

I have heard they sometimes need girls in the hospitals to help with the work. I know nothing about nursing, but would be glad if there were something else I could do. Several months ago I registered to go "anywhere in the United States" as a telephone operator, but have never been called and have given up all hopes of being called.

ANXIOUS.

Undoubtedly there is some way in which you can serve Go to the Red Cross headquarters and get advice there. They will tell you the best way to serve after they have learned the circumstances and talents.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) My eyes hair and lashes are very dark, but my eyebrows are very light. Kindly give me a good, harmless remedy for darkening them other than a pencil.

(2) My skin is perfect, except there are a few enlarged pores on one side of my face. Is there anything that will close them?

OH, THANKS!

(1) Apply vaseline to the brows every night. This will increase the growth, and the thicker the brows, darker they will appear. Be careful not to spread the brows by using the vaseline into the skin above them.

The following lotion is recommended for enlarged pores: Boric acid, one dram; distilled witch hazel, four ounces. Apply with a piece of old linen or bit of absorbent cotton.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been keeping company with a girl who is not of age for several months and we have been so happy together that I am sure our love is true and would stand the test of marriage. This girl's home life is not happy and she is not treated right by her father. She is so unhappy that I want to get her away and into my home. I expect to be called into service soon, although for industrial reasons I have been exempt so far.

The girl's father and mother will not consent to her marriage. Can I be married to her without the consent of her parents?

Since the girl is a minor she cannot marry without the consent of her parents. She will have to adjust herself to her home environment until she is of age.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have three children who are always getting out of bed. Will you kindly recommend an antiseptic which I could apply to their wounds?

MOTHER.

Good antiseptic when made in a saturated solution with boiled water. It is a good eye wash as well as an antiseptic for burns or cuts. Zinc ointment is a curative and antiseptic dressing for wounds.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: We are two girls who will be fourteen years of age in a few days.

(1) We are going with a boy friend who has been going with us for a good many months. If they offer us birthday presents, would it be correct to accept them?

(2) Do you think it correct for girls of our age to have parties in the evening, at which a chaperone present, and invite our boy friends?

BLONDE AND BRUNETTE.

(1) It will be all right to accept the gifts if they are not jewelry.

(2) We are usually held in the afternoon. It would be all right, however, to have a party in the evening if it did not last after ten o'clock.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: My friends who registered when I did have all received their questionnaires, but I have not received mine. What shall I do?

M. K. L.

Notify your local board at once.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: My married life has not been happy and I have learned that my wife is not faithful to me. If I obtain a divorce will it put me in class 1-A?

TOM.

Yes, you will be put in class 1-A.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO DR. BRADY, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

INDUSTRIAL HYGIENE XVI—T. N. T. POISONING

Trinitrotoluol is used in the manufacture of explosives.

Workers handling this chemical are supposed to wear rubber gloves to guard against absorption through the lymphatics. Sometimes the employer fails to provide rubber gloves, and gloves have proved of doubtful value anyway.

A union worker 27 years old and exceptionally vigorous and well developed was employed in the chlorin shed, where phosphorus trichloride was mixed in a bottle with toluol and emptied into a tank through which chlorin gas was passed. Masks were provided to protect against leakages of chlorin gas, but the masks, according to the worker were seldom worn by men exposed, because they fail to give much protection.

He first began to vomit at frequent intervals, without much nausea. He also had sharp stabbing abdominal pains and occasionally slight bleeding from the bowels. Then he began to suffer with severe headache of a throbbing character, such as workers in nitroglycerin or dynamite plants have. The headache was accompanied by dizziness and some failure of eyesight. His skin and the whites of his eyes assumed a yellowish tint resembling jaundice. And finally he developed an irritating cough with expectoration giving off an odor of chlorin, an odor like strong chloride of lime.

The man stuck to his job for five months, but finally had to give up and enter the hospital.

His chief complaints were distress about the heart, difficult breathing, irritating cough, headache and falling asleep. He has lost much weight and is very weak.

The cough, caused by a bronchitis of the finest or capillary bronchial tubes, is due to the chlorin poisoning. The other symptoms are more dependent on the trinitrotoluol poisoning. This trinitrotoluol poisoning is about the same in effect as anilin poisoning in general. Anilin is derived from coal tar, and from it are produced a vast number of chemicals and drugs and dyes. Acetanilide, the pain-killer dose in most alleged colds, grippe-cures and headache medicines, is such a product. Acetanilide poisoning is similar to trinitrotoluol poisoning.

The outlook in any case of coal tar poisoning depends on two factors: first, the length of time the poisoning has been going on, and second, the victim's ability or willingness to change his occupation or habit, as the case may be. Unfortunately thousands of shallow-minded persons indulge in acetanilide or phenacetin or other poisonous coal tar medicines about as lightly as you and I would take a nut sundae, and worse still, many unscrupulous druggists encourage such habits.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Cough Medicine.

Some time ago you gave a formula for a harmless cough medicine. Would you mind repeating the formula for the benefit of several readers? (G. B. H.)

Answer.

Citrate of Soda..... 1 ounce
Glycerine..... 1 ounce
Fluid extract of licorice..... 1 ounce
Boiled water enough to make 1 pint.
Take a teaspoonful every two hours.

Contagious and Infectious.

Please explain the difference between contagious and infectious diseases. Is a dispute in our class. (E. A. B.)

Answer.—A contagious disease is communicated through personal contact, and an infectious disease may be communicated indirectly. In water, food, or by other means. A contagious disease is necessarily infectious, but an infectious disease may not be contagious. Malaria is an example of an infectious disease which is not contagious; so is yellow fever. These diseases are conveyed from person only by certain breeds of mosquitoes.

Let the Baby Sleep Alone.

Kindly tell me whether it is harmful in any way to let a six-month-old baby sleep alone in a room at night. Our baby has done so for a month without apparent ill effect, but my mother insists it is an outrage. Baby does not awaken all night and I would hear the slightest sound if she did. (Mrs. D.)

Answer.—It is best for the baby to sleep in a separate bed and if possible a separate room.

CANNING AND PRESERVING.

New Quince Jelly.—To five pounds of quinces add one quart cranberries and ten large apples.

Cook quinces alone first until almost tender, then add other fruit and boil till it's sauce.

Strain and measure one cup sugar to each cup of juice and boil twelve minutes. This has a pretty color as well as a good taste.

Quince Honey which is very good:—Three large quinces, one large sour apple, three pounds sugar, one pint water. Pare, quarter and grate quinces and apple. To the pulp add one pint of water and boil fifteen minutes, stirring occasionally. Add sugar, boil ten minutes longer. Skim and put in jelly tumbler.

Red Beet Jelly.—Chop one quart of cooked beets and one quart of uncooked cabbage; add one cup fresh grated horseradish, one cup sugar, one-half teaspoon red pepper, same of white pepper, one tablespoon of mustard flour, one teaspoon salt, two cups cider vinegar. Mix all together and cook twenty minutes. Seal in jars.

SUGAR-SAVING DESSERTS.

Baked Custard.—One quart milk, three or four eggs, one-quarter cup sugar, three-quarters teaspoon salt, or syrup, three-quarters teaspoon vanilla, one-half teaspoon vanilla. Scald the milk, add the sugar and salt together. Add to the scalded milk. Add the vanilla; pour into custard cups. Set in a pan and partially surround with water. Bake until the custard is firm.

Junket.—Three cups milk three-quarters cup light syrup or honey, one teaspoon vanilla, one junket tablet, one tablespoon cold water. Heat milk and syrup in a double boiler until lukewarm. Crush the junket tablet and dissolve it in cold water

THE STRUGGLE

STRENGTH FROM STRESS

The first to speak after John had told of Carter's efforts to buy out their rights to the book, was Miss Selden. There was a suspicious moisture in her eyes and her voice shook a little. As far as my share in the book entitles me to speak, I am most anxious that you should accept the offer," she said.

The Ferrols understood her as though she had given all her reasons for the decision. They knew how badly she had felt that all their savings should depend on the success of her book; how she had thought only of their welfare in its success had trembled at the thought of failure because it would mean disaster to them. Now that she saw a chance for them to retrieve their risk, her first emotion was of gladness for her friends the Ferrols. Edith leaned over and kissed her in wordless appreciation.

John looked at Edith for her decision. She shook her head.

"I'd rather not say anything, dear, until I know how you feel about the offer," she said.

John urged her.

"I am so evenly divided on the matter that what you and Miss Selden think would decide me," he said slowly. "It's a hard matter to decide. If I were single or just married, I should joyously keep to the high seas, palling around with the children who were listening wide-eyed, not in the least understanding what the talk meant."

John put in at the port for a time," John said finally. "Now Edith, tell me how you feel about it."

She sat down by his side and without a word laid the letter from her brother before him, in which he asked for money to bring his income.

and add to milk. Add vanilla and stir thoroughly and quickly. Pour into a glass and let stand undisturbed until firm, then chill. Serve with fresh or canned fruit or grate nutmeg over surface and serve with cream.

French Bavarian Cream.—Three tablespoons gelatin, one-quarter cup cold water, one-quarter cup boiling water, one cup light syrup or honey, one tablespoon lemon juice, one cup peaches cut in small pieces, one cup whipped cream.

Soak the gelatin in the cold water, and dissolve it in the boiling water. Add the sweetening, the fruit and the lemon juice. Chill the mixture and when it begins to thicken fold in the whipped cream and turn it into a mold. Serve with or without soft custard.

Prune and Raisin Pie.—Twelve prunes three-quarters cup raisins, one-half cup light syrup, one cup prune juice, one tablespoon vinegar, one tablespoon butter or substitute, one tablespoon flour.

Wash prunes and soak overnight in cold water enough to cover them. Cook slowly until soft in the same water. Remove stones and chop prunes, add chopped raisins, syrup, vinegar and juice.

Line plate with pastry. Fill with fruit mixture. Dot with butter and dredge with flour. Add upper crust and bake.

vention to a successful outcome. When John had read the letter he looked up gravely, but said nothing.

"I should have been content which ever way you decided about the position, John," Edith said simply. "Only I wanted you to know one reason why I'm so glad you're going back to the salary and—safety."

Sara Selden rose and with the habitual self-effacement of the gentle, from other people's problems, moved quietly to the door.

"I suppose we all have agreed, then, to accept Mr. Carter's offer," she said. "If so, I am going to take the children into the living room for a little celebration romp, if you will excuse us."

"John dear, I don't want you to feel I am committing you to lending Edith our money. Only I do want you to look into the matter for yourself before I refuse him his chance. We have learned to risk our all on an active power for us, instead of letting it lie as insurance money. All I want you to think about, John, is that there may be another chance for us to venture out, another exercise for that little courage and strength we have gained in living boldly and positively instead of hiding in a rut. Don't you feel that way?"

There is not a deeper thrill than that which passes from a man to a woman when one feels a sudden glow of admiration, trust and love for the other. John felt this now and answered his wife tenderly: "Yes, I do think so, little woman. Well, see about this invention of Edith."

(To Be Continued.)

EVERYDAY ETIQUETTE

A woman is allowed much less freedom of posture than a man. She must never cross her knees in public. In every gesture she must be "lady-like."

MYRTLE: Accept his apology. It will not be necessary to revive the friendship, but courtesy requires, when an apology is offered, that you accept it.

G. S.: Wedding cake is no longer sent about. It is neatly packed in boxes, each taking one as she leaves the house.

SIDE TALKS

—BY— RUTH CAMERON

A GRANDMOTHER'S ADVICE

A woman was telling about her grandchildren, what smart, bright children they were (whoever circulated the idea that fond mothers are the original monologuists, surely never met a fond grandmother.)

Some very rash person interrupted to ask, "Do they mind well?"

"Better than most children," said the proud grandmother.

"Do they obey when they are spoken to once?" persisted the rash one.

"If they do, they are probably the only children I ever heard of who do."

The grandmother hesitated. She means to be a truthful person.

Children Mind if Spoken to ONCE.

"Well," she admitted, "I can't exactly say they always do, but I think they would if they were spoken to only once. I think most children would. The trouble is that mothers don't speak once. They speak once, and then almost before the child has time to mind, they speak again. The child expects it. He waits for it. Mothers spoke once and then just looked at the child if he didn't mind. It would be better for both mothers and children."

Those Double Mothers.

Now, mothers don't like to be told how they might better manage their children, by maiden ladies or holiday wives. They complain that the only reason those seldoms talk so facetiously is that they have never had any experience to put their theories to test. But surely any open minded mother should be willing to take a hint from a grandmother, one of those double mothers who sometimes find more happiness in their second motherhood than their first.

Are They True or Not?

"Mothers often talk too much."

"Children expect to be spoken to."

"Let us hope he does not," he answered suddenly. "I am here on my own business, and my own business has no sanctity about it. I must keep control if I am to win through to the things I want."

"The things you want?" she echoed with deep sadness. "What are they now, Stephen?"

"I tried to kill him," he said quietly but distinctly, "and I mean to kill him."

He knelt on the marble edge of the fountain and caught her hand. "Gabrielle!" he repeated hoarsely. "Gabrielle!"

She looked down at him. Her free hand she hid quietly upon his. "You are cruel to yourself," she said. "Why have you come, Stephen?"

"God knows, I have led so much in all these ghastly years, Gabrielle. I have led most of all to my own conscience. I have called you an episode—a folly. I have heaped contempt on you, on my memory of you, and always you have risen as now—the one pure thing that I have loved, my one virtue, my own fidelity."

"Fidelity, Stephen, we have buried our dead."

"You have—I cannot. I tried. At first it was remorse that would not let me—the knowledge that I have ruined you—dishonored you."

"That is not true," she interrupted proudly. "No woman—no man—has

RAILROAD MAN GIVES GOOD ADVICE

"Several years ago I was under treatment of a stomach specialist for 5 months, 3 weeks of which were spent in a hospital. Another stomach specialist told me I had gall stones and that an operation was necessary. I lost 45 lbs. in weight. Talking with a brakeman one day he told me of May's Wonderful Remedy and since taking it I have gained 15 lbs. and am feeling fine. I am advising others to try it. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. Tired, Nervous Women What You Need is Vinol

The reason we recommend Vinol so strongly for such conditions is because it is a non-secret remedy which contains Beef and Cod Liver Peptones, Iron and Manganese Peptonates and Glycerophosphates, the very elements needed to build up a run-down system and replace weakness with strength.

HERE IS PROOF

Glasgow, Ill., Ky. "I was suffering from a nervous breakdown—loss of flesh and poor appetite so I could hardly drag around and do the work for my family. My doctor prescribed Vinol. It not only made me well and strong but I have gained in weight."—Mrs. S. M. Gray.

Milwaukee, Wis. "I was weak, nervous, all run down, no appetite and had tried different medicines without benefit. A friend advised me to try Vinol. It gave me a wonderful appetite, I sleep well, have gained in weight and am now strong and well."—Mrs. E. Strey.

For all run-down, nervous, anaemic conditions, weak women, overworked men, feeble old people and delicate children, there is no remedy like Vinol.

"Flappy? And your name—your position—your people—all lost?"

She smiled faintly.

"Those griefs are old and healed, Stephen. I have a name and a position. They are my own, and I am a little proud of them. I owe you my knowledge of myself and my own strength—some hours' illusion, a broader outlook, a deeper understanding of other women's failures. Let that suffice between us."

"I cannot. It is not remorse that haunts me. I am not the man to feel remorse. I have loved and half despised you. Then—that night when I came back and found that you knew me for what I was—a liar, a cheat, a common spy, to be bought and sold by every man—and had left me on the very eve of my atonement to you—then I know my own madness. From that hour I wanted you."

"It's too late, Stephen," she said, "too late. I have buried my dead. I cannot call the dead to life. We are free and we stand alone. We must go our ways, Stephen."

"I won't plead, Gabrielle. I know you better. Then suddenly he turned and stumbled blindly into the darkness of life's pathway."

CHAPTER XI.

Behind the Mosque.

Colonel Destinn rode through Sidi-bel-Abbes, and many of those he passed looked after him. One or two of his observers were soldiers wearing a red and blue uniform of the Legion. They saluted first and grimaced only after a cautious interval.

"Nom d'un Petard! Will the devil never grow old?"

Women looked after him—Arab women from behind mysterious veils, and Europeans—all with the same feminine interest in what is strong. For Colonel Destinn sat his horse with grace and ease, and the slight erect figure carried the years lightly. How many the years were no one knew.

Thus he rode slowly through the pleasant shaded avenues, skirting the pigger quarter, till he reached the plateau. There he drew rein, his keen eyes sweeping the low girle of olive trees and clustering native hovels to the far side, where the mosque rose up in stately purity against the turquoise sky. Through the graceful archway a double line of Arabs drifted backward and forward in a soft-flowing, unbroken stream of worship, and suddenly Colonel Destinn set spurs and galloped over the hard clay, scattering the stragglers to right and left.

"Madame Arnaud!"

She turned with a little start of surprise, and freeing herself from the cumbersome red slippers which encased her infidel feet, she came to meet him, her hand outstretched in gracious welcome.

"Why, Colonel Destinn! You?"

"There's no one here for whom it is necessary to play comedy," he answered with brutal directness. "You had my note?"

"Yes—" She crimsoned and faltered, and he swung himself to the ground, looping the bride over his wrist.

"We must get away from the crowd," he said in the same quiet, imperative tone. "It is fairly quiet behind the mosque. Take my arm. The rough ground is excuse enough."

"If anyone saw us they would think—"

"Nothing that is not true, madame," she hesitated, half resentful, half afraid.

"I am beginning to ask myself what is the truth, colonel."

"That is what I have come to tell you."

They walked on. Overhead, from the high towers of the mosque, an Arab chant drifted down to them through the quiet air.

"I extol the greatness of the Lord, of God the most high—"

They were quite alone now. On their right the white walls sheltered them; to the left, the open suncorered plateau. Colonel Destinn stood still and faced his companion.

"Well," he said, "have you nothing to say to me?"

"She lifted her lustrous brown eyes to his in simple inquiry. "What should I have to say?"

"Your husband is safe."

"Oh, Destinn! Yes, I had forgotten about it almost. It was an accident. He thought I was about to be attacked. He is so nervous and excitable, and the night was dark. He explained it all."

"Yes, Captain Arnaud explained everything. There was a block of stone beside him and he set his foot upon it, leaning forward so that their faces were on a level. 'Madame Arnaud! Do you really think I believe you or in you? My child, if your husband had acted as you say, he would have been cashed for an intoxicated incapable; but he gave me his explanation. It was an explanation which men among themselves—some men—understand and accept—madness on account of a woman. I let your husband go free. Do you thank me?' She made no answer. The graceful knowledge of her power was gone. Her eyes hung on his with the blankness of a will in abeyance. 'You do not thank me,' he went on deliberately. 'You would like to. You would like to play the role of the faithful wronged wife. But I am the one person before whom you cannot act, either to yourself or to others. I have seen through you, and your little shallow soul knows it. All artifice between us is useless. Do not Returning home one afternoon, little Richard's mother found him apparently in great pain. Careful questioning failed to disclose the cause of the lad's suffering. Previous experience told her that Richard probably was in need of that oil so unpopular with children, and she proceeded to administer a generous portion despite the crying resistance of Richard. A few minutes later the boy appeared, in great gloe.

"I've got a joke on mother—I've got a joke on mother," he cried. "Members of the family were curious of course."

"Mother thought I was sick and gave me oil, but I had the toothache," he explained between laughs.

Richard's earlier reticence was due to dread of the dentist's chair.

"I'm surprised that you welcome me so warmly," said the seedy visitor.

"No?" asked the editor.

"I must admit that I have a poem to show you."

"I inferred as much, and that's why I welcomed you warmly. It might have been a plan to run the war."

move—stay there!" He caught her hands and held them in a grip of iron. She tried to wrench her hands free, the while her eyes remained in helpless attendance on his.

"Colonel Destinn—you are insulting—you have no right—"

"I am not insulting. And if I were you would have to listen to me. The power I have over you is yours own. We belong together, Madame Arnaud, by virtue of our vice. We are both corrupt, worthless—you in your way, I in mine. Hear me out, please! I am a brutal man, and I am tearing down the veil with brutal hands. But no matter—you will have it mended by tomorrow. For an hour I choose that you should see clearly. You have hounded two men to their ruin—in all innocence. You set yourself on a false pedestal which they could not reach—you set them a task which they could not accomplish without using your own methods. They had not your powers of assuming virtue nor my powers of valuing your peculiar worth. The one man virtually committed suicide at the altar of your perfection, the other murder."

He stopped entirely. It was as though his own thoughts had engulfed his knowledge of her existence. She drew her hands away, and he made no effort to retain them.

"Colonel Destinn," she said gently. "I think you must be mad. Even if the dreadful things you have said were true, why should you say them to me? I gave you my friendship because you seemed to need it—a little, as you say, because I myself was lonely and unhappy. But does that merit so much brutality in return?"

"Forgive me, madame. I am a ruffian. I have forgotten the language. See, I am pleading with you for my life, my sanity. A soul-in-hell—a soul that you could save cries out to you as to the last hope of its salvation. Are you a woman and have not the courage to hold out a hand from your own grief to a deeper grief, a deeper despair? Will you turn away from me, Sylvia?"

Glen Gooch, second son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Gooch left last Tuesday with the contingent from Janesville, for Hattisburg, Miss. He arrived safely and enjoyed the trip immensely.

Last Thursday afternoon, despite the inclemency of the weather, the Misses Alice and Katherine Roherty delightfully entertained at a kitchen shower for Miss Katherine Crall, one of Center's most estimable young ladies, and successful school teachers.

She was born and grown to womanhood in our midst, where her friends are legion. She will wed Raymond Sprindie, October 31, and will take up her residence in Shopiere, where she formerly taught school. May this new venture in life prove a happy and successful one, is the wish of her many and life-long Center friends.

Center's loss is Shopiere's gain.

Catarrh is a Real Enemy and Requires Vigorous Treatment

Do Not Neglect It.

When you use medicated sprays, atomizers and douches for your Catarrh, you may succeed in unstopping the choked-up air passages for the time being, but this annoying condition returns, and you have to do the same thing over and over again.

Catarrh has never yet been cured by these local applications. Have you ever experienced any real benefit from such treatment?

Throw these makeshift remedies to the winds, and get on the right treatment. Go to your drug store today, get a bottle of S. S. S., and commence a treatment that has been praised by sufferers for nearly half a century.

S. S. S. gets right at the source of Catarrh, and forces from the blood the germs which cause the disease. You can obtain special medical advice regarding your own case without charge by writing to Medical Dept., 22 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

and Mrs. J. S. Roherty has donned the uniform and entered training at Madison for his country's service. Sorry to see our boys go, but proud to have such brave boys.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Dixon were town callers, Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Wright and children of Janesville were Sunday visitors at the Frank L. Davis home.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barlow of Ralls, Texas, are sorry to hear of the very serious illness of their youngest daughter, Dorothy, who has been confined to the Sanitarium at Lubbock, for the past six weeks, taking treatment for an Ophthalmic Gout. We hope for her ultimate and speedy recovery.

DRUGGISTS !! PLEASE NOTE VICK'S VAPORUB OVERSOLD DUE TO PRESENT EPIDEMIC

Tremendous Demand Last Few Days Has Wiped Out Excess Stocks That We Had Estimated Would Last Until Next January. Last Week's Orders Called for One and Three Quarter Million Jars—Today's Orders Alone Amounts to 932,459 Jars.

Big Shipments Are En Route to Jobbers. Until These Arrive There May Be a Temporary Shortage. All Deals Postponed—Buy in Small Lots Only.

RETAILERS CAN GET IMMEDIATE SHIPMENTS DIRECT BY PARCEL POST.

This advertisement is written on Monday, October 21st. It is directed to the attention of all distributors of Vick's Vaporub, both wholesale and retail. In an emergency such as the present epidemic, our duty is to get the product to the people in the quickest possible manner to those sections stricken by influenza. We, therefore, call your careful attention to the following:

DANGER OF SHORTAGE IF SUPPLY IS NOT CONSERVED.

On October 1st we had on hand, at our factory and in twenty warehouses scattered over the country, sufficient Vaporub to last us, we thought, until January 1st, allowing for a 10% increase over last year's sales, and not counting our daily output. This big excess stock had been accumulated during the summer months.

Then this epidemic of Spanish Influenza hit us—and in the last 10 days this stock has vanished. At first, we thought this tremendous demand would last only a few days, but the orders have run:

Wed., Oct. 16, 18,504 doz.
Thurs., Oct. 17, 25,323 doz.
Fri., Oct. 18, 39,256 doz.
Sat., Oct. 19, 45,833 doz.
Mon., Oct. 21, 77,705 doz.

Up to Saturday, October 19th, we have actually shipped for this month $400,284.10, or over two million jars of Vaporub.

THE PROBLEM NOW IS TO DISTRIBUTE VAPORUB QUICKLY.

Most of this tremendous quantity is still enroute to the jobbers, but freight and express are both congested nowadays, and it may be some time before this supply reaches the jobbers. In the meantime, therefore, it is necessary that we distribute, as widely as possible, the stock that we are manufacturing daily, together with that now on the jobbers' and retailers' shelves, in order that it may get to the influenza districts quickly. Our normal output is about 4,000 dozen per day. We are putting on a night shift, but it will be a little while before that is producing.

WHAT WE ASK THE WHOLESALER DRUGGIST TO DO.

Last Saturday we notified all of our jobbers, by Special Delivery, as follows:

1st—Deals and quantity shipments of all kinds are cancelled. Fill no quantity orders of any kind, whether taken by our salesman or by your own. Sell in small lots only.

2nd—Order from us in small quantities as possible. If you have any quantity order given the jobbers' salesman or given to our salesman, don't bother about them—no need to write us—it is absolutely impossible to fill these orders at this time. If the jobbers in your territory are out of Vick's Vaporub, we will ship you by Parcel Post, prepaid, quantities not more than three (3) dozen 30c size in any one order. Naturally, we can't open accounts at this time, so your check or money order for this amount must accompany your order. Don't write us stating to ship through your jobber, as we then have to wait until we write this jobber and get his O. K. If you wish the goods to come through your jobber, have him order them for you.

3rd—We are now out of the 60c size and will be for the next ten days.

COMPILATION OF CASUALTY LISTS GIVEN BY STATES

Washington, D. C.—On May 4, 1918, the War Department inaugurated a system of giving the address of each soldier whom it reported in its casualty lists. From May 4 to October 24 inclusive the total casualties of soldiers of our armies abroad, as reported by the War Department and sent to the press of the United States, publication was 5,750. Of this number, the 12 southern states contributed 6,471. The casualties of the southern states in detail are as follows:

Alabama	1,055
Arkansas	515
Florida	244
Georgia	535
Louisiana	435
Maryland	428
Mississippi	343
North Carolina	505
South Carolina	505
Tennessee	521
Texas	284
Virginia	597

Total 6,471

The twelve states showing the highest number of casualties and their respective casualties are as follows:

Connecticut	1,459
Illinois	2,734
Indiana	1,384
Iowa	1,384
Massachusetts	2,626
Michigan	2,119
New Jersey	1,054
New York	1,054
Ohio	1,878
Pennsylvania	6,752
Wisconsin	2,025
Missouri	1,111

Total 29,555

These figures do not include losses of transports at sea or the casualties of marines.

On May 4, when the war department began a publishing home address book, a total of 4,950 casualties. There do not appear in the above totals.

Edgerton News

Edgerton, Oct. 30.—Willard, the little four year old son of Mrs. Clarence Bowen, met with a most painful accident yesterday afternoon. The family were engaged in making bread and the boy was playing under a table. Suddenly he screamed and on investigation it was found that he had in some manner hit himself in the eye with a knife. His mother rushed to the city where medical aid was given him, and later he was taken to the Mercy hospital at Janesville. Reports from the hospital indicate that the injured member might possibly be saved.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Quigley were called to Jefferson by the death of their parents and family. On Friday of last week the latter's mother died, and on Monday a brother died and other members of the family are sick with influenza.

Mrs. M. E. Titus departed yesterday for her home at Colorado Springs, Colorado. She will stop on the way and visit in Sandwich, Ill.

Fred J. Schmitt of the federal labor bureau of Janesville was in the city yesterday making a survey of the labor situation. He visited the different business places in the city to determine the number of men who were employed in non-essential occupations. He completed his survey yesterday and will make a report to the government as to the existing conditions in the city.

TOWN LINE

Town Line, Oct. 28.—The funeral of Mrs. Edward Terwilliger was held last Friday afternoon at the Roman undertaking parlors at Beloit. Mrs. Terwilliger passed away at her home on the River road Wednesday afternoon, October 24, after a brief illness with influenza which developed into pneumonia. She is survived by her husband and seven children, the youngest only a year old.

Saturday afternoon a number of ladies, neighbors of Mrs. Lewis Pruesse, Sr., surprised her at her home in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Pruesse's forty-second wedding anniversary. A beautiful dish was presented them. Refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Julien Sr. and son Arthur of Milwaukee were over Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Steinkamp.

Mrs. Walter Plumb and four children who have all been sick with influenza are improving. Plumb's condition has been quite serious.

Miss Evelyn Larabee is attending business college in Chicago and stopping at the home of Lyman Steinkamp.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Pruesse Jr., L. E. White, Will McCarthy Robert Moody are all victims of the Spanish influenza.

Russel Gower who is employed at Beloit has been quite seriously ill with pneumonia at the General hospital. He is somewhat improved.

Miss Mae Gower and L. E. White have also been ill at the Gower home but are getting better.

Mrs. O'Hern of Chicago has been at the Plumb family for a few days caring for her sister Miss Belle Finley who has been ill with influenza.

Harold Gerald of Beloit spent the week end with Merwyn Martin.

Miss Ada Wachlin was called to Milwaukee last week by the serious illness of her sister, Mrs. Frank Kargberg who has the influenza.

Mr. Howard Gentell of Beloit spent Wednesday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Walters.

AMERICA MUST PLAY THE LEADING ROLE IN WORLD PROBLEMS, SAYS WINSTON

Madison, Oct. 30.—That the most tremendous problems which the world has ever seen are facing humanity today and that America must play the leading role in solving them or resign her world leadership, is the view expressed by Chief Justice John B. Winslow of the Supreme Court of Wisconsin, in discussing the aims of the Win-the-War convention planned by the League to Enforce Peace.

Judge Winslow will speak on "A Lawless World" when the league's delegates gather at Madison on November 6, 8 and 10, for their national convention. Judge William H. Taft, president of the league will preside at the meeting.

"The most tremendous problems which the world has ever seen are facing humanity today," declared Judge Winslow. "If these problems are rightly solved it means that in the future, democracy and justice shall reign and that the nations of the earth shall thereafter tread the pleasant path of peace in friendly rivalry and co-operation; if they be wrongly solved, it means that militarism will be world-wide, and that every state must become an armed camp, with fear and revenge will be the anguishing thoughts and preparation for war the chief occupation of man.

"By the logic of events America must play the leading role in the great world drama now unfolding. She cannot escape it if she would, and surely we do not wish her to. She must make good at this momentous crisis or resign her world leadership and confess that she is unworthy.

"The world looks to America and America looks to her patriotic citizens. The citizen who neglects to acquaint himself with the causes of the present war and means by which such monstrous crimes are to be prevented in the future fails in his duty to his country. The Win-the-War for permanent peace convention furnishes a great opportunity along these lines for every patriot."

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets regulate the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

If you have heart burn in your mouth, tongue coated, appetite poor, lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, troubled with undigested foods, you should take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without gripping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief, or you can eat what you like. 10c and 25c. in boxes. All druggists.

How Is Your "Culebra Cut"?

The Panama Canal is a clear passageway as far as the Culebra Cut. But Gold Hill has a way of slipping into the cut. And until dredges can clear the channel, the industrial schedule of the world is out of gear.

How about your own canal? The intestinal canal is a clear passageway as far as the large intestine. There, if you become constipated, waste matter is allowed to stagnate. It becomes unnaturally dry and undergoes abnormal fermentation and putrefaction. Germ activity is increased. Your whole system is out of gear. Result, the production of irritating and poisonous substances, which are absorbed into your blood and carried all over your body, liable to produce disease anywhere. The longer such stagnation is allowed to exist, the harder it is to clean out the canal—90% of human disease originates in the "Culebra Cut."

If engineers tried to blast out the slide from Culebra Cut they would have more slides to cope with. If you try to blast out accumulated waste from your Culebra Cut with pills, salts or purges, you will increase your constipation—and next time you will have to take stronger medicine in a larger dose.

You can't dredge your canal. You can clean it out with Nujol. Nujol softens the mass, and supplies the intestinal canal with sufficient moisture to replace deficient mucus. It causes the obstructive waste matter to pass gently out of your system at a regular hour, absorbing and removing the poisons as it goes. Nujol regularly keeps the traffic of your mind and body operating on schedule.

You admire the Panama Canal system. Why not safeguard your own? Your druggist has Nujol.

Warning:

NUJOL is sold only in sealed bottles bearing the Nujol Trade Mark. Insist on Nujol. You may suffer from substitutes.

BASEBALL HEADS SHIVER AT THE IDEA OF "FED" RETURN

(BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.)
New York, Oct. 30.—The "Powers That Be" behind the baseball bizz have decided not to flirt with trouble. Evidence of this fact was brought out a short time ago when a news dispatch from Cleveland told of the dropping of the Perry case, which came near causing civil war between the two major leagues just prior to the world's series.

The dispute over the possession of pitcher Scott Perry, once drafted from Atlanta by the Braves and later released, and then signed by the Athletics, was taken into court by Connie Mack, who obtained an injunction restraining the National Commission, the National League and the Boston club from interfering with the player.

At the time Connie Mack secured his injunction the National League got mighty hot under its august collar. But Johnson's immaculate laundry then commenced to sizzle noticeably, and finally John K. Tener, resigned as president of the league, his resignation being hastened by the course, that was followed in Perry's disposal.

What may be done about Perry between the Braves and Athletics has little to do with the story. Suffice it to say that the two clubs will "get together." But the reason for their getting together is plain enough.

An airing of the Perry case in the sports pages have been highly injurious to the national pastime, for the very good reason that baseball law, as interpreted and dealt out by the National Commission, would have been given a thorough airing, and the question of traffic in players would have had to have been explained to the judge quite as much as to the public. Such an airing, if it had been given to the court records might have given the ghost of the Federal League, and particularly the Baltimore Peders, a new lease of life lived by the world war, the big fellows in the national pastime deemed it wise to close any avenue which might present itself to the Peds for a comeback.

"AUTOCRACY MUST GO"—THIS APPLIES EVEN IN BASEBALL

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
New York, Oct. 30.—With peace talk growing stronger as the Kaiser and his six useless sons retreat towards Berlin there is an occasional whisper from various points of the baseball compass and indications that the pastime is itching to come to life again.

The very latest whisper has to do with the rehabilitation of the grand old game, and those who have studied the question of baseball during the week of rebuilding the game should start with the National Commission.

In the words of President Wilson: "Autocracy must go." The moderate elements in baseball demand that the National "Commission" must either abdicate or be thrown out bodily and a new commission created to govern the game.

George Tebeau, former owner of the Cleveland Club and more lately president of the Kansas City American Association team, himself somewhat of a firebrand in baseball, is one of the men who believes that what baseball needs is more efficient management. In order to obtain such management, he declares, there must be a new commission.

The ex-Kansas City mogul admits his admiration for Dan Johnson. He also believes that Garry Herrmann and John A. Heydler are highly capable baseball men of unquestioned experience, but all that, he says, the National Commission is not the place for any one of the trio.

"If baseball is to be re-established on a firm basis," Tebeau says, "we need men like one-time President Taft or Judge K. M. Landis at the head of the Commission. With a man of this kind a new commission could be built up, taking in two other men who are baseball fans but who are not directly interested in any one club. One man of the caliber of either Mr. Taft or Judge Landis could review a case without prejudice, and baseball could afford to offer sufficient inducements to make it worth his while."

TENNIS IS THRIVING UNDER WAR STRAIN

(BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.)
New York, Oct. 29.—Lawn tennis is one sport that has held up under the strain of war.

The net game lost many of its stars to the various branches of the service, and its patronage, too, was considerably cut down in the same manner. Yet tennis has continued to thrive and has been doing "its bit" to aid Uncle Sam.

The revival of championship tournaments by the United States National Lawn Tennis Association this year had a stimulating effect. In 1917 when patriotic tournaments were held and championships abolished, public interest in the sport lagged to a marked degree and memberships in the various tennis organizations throughout the country fell off.

The membership list is always a dependable barometer in tennis, and most of these are players. This year, with championship play restored, local, State, international and national tournaments attracted greater interest than in 1917, and the foundation of the sport remains unshaken.

William W. Myrick, vice president of the national body, stated recently that tennis is standing firm, and that the outlook for 1919 is more than encouraging. He believes that the national body recently sounded out more than 500 colleges and universities throughout the country on the question of establishing tennis as a major sport, and favorable replies were received from more than 90 per cent.

Officers of the National Association are impressing upon officials of the various clubs and State organizations throughout the country the necessity of providing continued activity during the playing season, and it is expected that renewed efforts will be made to popularize the game everywhere.

PLAYING FOOTBALL UNDER DIFFICULTIES

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
New York, Oct. 30.—The difficulties under which football practice and playing is being attempted at a number of the eastern colleges is typified by the experiences at Cornell and West Virginia. An outline of the time table for athletics at Cornell is given in a recent article on the subject, printed in one of the university publications. In part it is as follows:

Hours that have been set aside for recreation and sport purposes are Wednesday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock and Saturday afternoons. An additional period has been granted for practice of the football teams, from 4 to 6 o'clock Monday afternoons. Thus the football team will have four hours outdoor practice a week for playing such games as it may be possible to arrange.

"As the War Department is emphasizing athletics for recreation, track athletics are likely to be of an informal character not unsimilar to the programs that coach Jack

IT'S ALL WRONG, CARLYLE. IT'S ALL WRONG.

Mackley has arranged in the past for inter-league and intercompany games. An attempt will be made to provide sports and exercises that will be of physical benefit and at the same time be entertaining.

SPORT SNAP SHOTS

The London Sportsman of Sep. 11 prints an interesting tale of the thoroughbred's endurance and courage. It has to do with a heroic horse among war's horrors, torpedoes at sea and racing in Egypt and Mesopotamia under short feed, and between wounds and campaigns in the field. It was contributed by Capt. R. P. K. Gooch of the English Mounted Service, a branch which has done duty on the fronts of the great war. Capt. Gooch writes:

"Dear Sir: I have been reading a paragraph concerning the recent shipments of thoroughbreds to Egypt. Having quite recently returned from Egypt, where I did a bit of racing during the intervals of campaigning, I am writing you a line on the subject."

Golden Grass Good Horse.
"I saw Golden Grass, my first race out there, which he won like a good horse, and Bellhouse, who rode him, told me that he had a high opinion of him. A friend of mine out there had a horse sent out named Laminar. He did not know his pedigree, and asked me to find it out for him. He is probably, from his name and shape, by Land League. "If my interest in you to know, as a lover of the thoroughbred, that I took in the spring of 1916 a horse by Santol—Openly Wise, by Wisdom, out to Egypt with my regiment. We were torpedoes going out, but the horse was saved and landed. We started again and arrived safely. I took him all through the desert campaign and up to the fall of Jerusalem in December, 1917. He had been wounded three times, and won the only three steeplechases rode him in—viz., The Sinai Grand National, Palestine Grand National, and Palestine Grand Military."

Never Under Roof.
"When I tell you that he had never been under a roof, but lived a life in the open, and had been fed on the government ration only, you will, I think, agree with me that his performance is a fine answer to the foolish people who maintain that the blood horse is of no use off the race course."
During the campaign the cavalry was called upon to do a lot of serious work, carrying heavy weights, and often went short of water, and the horse which stood the strain best was the small horse and the well bred one. Clantol, my horse, stands 15.3. My experience of a cavalry campaign has quite convinced me of the necessity of the maintenance of racing in England, the only test for selection for breeding purposes."

Mike Cantillon, former American Association magnate, who got from under the Minnesota club early last spring, has gone from San Francisco to Los Angeles, where, it is stated, he will make his home, and already there is talk that he may come back after the war as the owner of one of the Pacific Coast league clubs that represent Los Angeles in the circuit.

According to Scout Eddie Herr, late of the St. Louis Browns, who made one round of the Pacific Coast league last summer, the New York Yankees drew a star battery when they selected Frank O'Dowd from San Francisco and Earl Baldwin from Salt Lake. Herr thinks John Hummel induced the Yankees to put in the drafts. The judgment of the scouts may be all right, but will the players ever be seen on a major league diamond?

Twice this year the National league record for extra innings was in danger of being cracked. In both cases it escaped being tied by a single round. Two different games lasted twenty-one innings before the decision was reached, and the league's record is twenty-two rounds, set by the Brooklyn and Pittsburgh teams in 1917.

In the curtailed season of 1918 the Cubs and Phillies were the first to approach their league's record. They went twenty-one innings on July 17 before the Mitchells won 2 to 1. Pittsburgh and Boston really beat that performance on August 1, because they went through twenty innings without a run on either side. Then the Pirates won the two tallies in the twenty-first.

Neither of these battles approached the major league mark for over time, which was set by the American league 'way back in 1906, when the Athletics and Red Sox fought for twenty-four innings before the Mackmen won by a score of 4 to 1.

American league teams did not get near that record this year, as the longest fight in the younger circuit went nineteen innings. It was between the Yanks and Cleveland, and the Ohio team won, 2 to 1.

EAST COOKSVILLE.

East Cooksville, Oct. 30.—Mrs. Clem Ludden and son, Kenneth, returned to their home in Madison Saturday after spending a few weeks at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McCarthy. Mrs. Oliver Mable received a letter from her son, Corporal Floyd

Mable, who is overseas, saying he is again in a hospital. His friends here wish him a speedy recovery.
Miss Margaret McCarthy, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia, is much better and it is hoped will soon be out again.
A number from this vicinity attended the funeral of Alex. White, which was held from his farm home Friday afternoon, and sympathize deeply with the family.

Martin Haugen delivered hogs to Evansville Monday.
Miss Turnbull, who has been caring for the sick at the C. W. McCarthy home, returned to her home at Rock-dale Monday morning.

Nels Nelson of Edgerton, called on relatives in this vicinity Sunday evening.
Dinnie McCarthy is still confined to his home with the influenza but it is hoped he will soon be out again.

Mrs. Chas. White is spending a few days of this week the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Jean Blakely and family at Jansville.

A fact:

From all accounts, the most eagerly sought-for cigarette among American soldiers abroad is Fatima. Exact figures to prove this are not available; but, in view of Fatima's known popularity with both officers and men still in training on this side of the water, it would seem to be correct. Below are printed a few typical reports on training camps and army posts, received from our salesmen last month:

- FORTRESS MONROE, Old Point Comfort, Va.:
"Fatima leads in sales"
- WEST POINT, Officers' Club:
"More Fatimas smoked than any other cigarette"
- ROCK ISLAND ARSENAL, Rock Island, Ill.:
"Fatima is second, best seller"
- CAMP MERRITT, Dumont, N. J., Officers' Club:
"Fatima is largest-selling cigarette"
- CAMP ZACHARY TAYLOR, Louisville, Ky.:
"Fatima is most popular high-grade brand"
- CAMP UPTON, Yaphank, N. Y.:
"Fatima is called here 'the officers' cigarette'"
- CAMP GORDON, Atlanta, Ga.:
"Fatima is one of the best sellers among the better brands"
- CAMP SHERMAN, Chillicothe, Ohio:
"Fatima is second biggest-selling cigarette"
- CAMP MORGAN, Mobile Bay:
"Fatima is leading seller here in its class"
- FORT WADSWORTH, N. Y.:
"Most officers smoke Fatimas; very popular also among the men"
- FORT SILL, Oklahoma, "School of Fire":
"Fatima is second in point of sales"
- CAMP SHERIDAN, Montgomery, Ala.:
"Fatima outsells all other high-class brands"
- FORT RILEY, Kansas, Medical Officers' Training Camp:
"Fatima is by far the biggest-selling cigarette in camp"

FATIMA

A Sensible Cigarette

Army training makes the mind quick and alert; and army men—exactly like quick-minded civilians—naturally choose a cigarette, not alone for its good-tasting qualities, but also for the fact that it does not disturb a man in any way, even if smoked—as so many soldiers do—almost steadily throughout the day.
